Hi all,

Just wanted to send along a few quick announcements:

1) If you missed class last night, you want to be sure to catch the graduate student presentations online. The speakers, presentations, and projects were all terrific and we were all inspired by the range and depth of topics explored. Thank you to all grad students that put such time and effort into their work!

2) As there are more grad projects to present next week than this week, Dr. Buckley wanted to make sure presentations are limited to THREE TO FOUR powerpoint slides. We are hoping to start right at 7:30 next week, so please EMAIL your presentations to Zach before the 12th so that he will be able to load them onto the class computer ahead of time.

3) Class will once again be held in Emerson 105 next week.

4) A review for the final exam has been schedule for January 16th at the Science Center. Room information and times will follow, but please put the date in your planners!

5) Feedback assignments for the second half of the semester will be tallied between Jan 12th and the 19th. Unfortunately, we are not able to give an accurate update until that point. If you have questions regarding feedback assignments for the first half of the course (before the midterm) please email Barb at bblancha@hsph.harvard.edu.

See you all next week!
